1. Increase Awareness and Support

A professional recording allows others to hear and gain appreciation for your ensemble, increasing community and school awareness and support.

2. Inspire and Motivate

Many students never get to hear what the ensemble sounds like as a whole, and consequently, never realize the importance of their role in making a great sound. A quality recording inspires and motivates students to improve musicianship.

3. Gauge Improvement

Professional recordings offer students a way to gauge their playing in a real-life setting and are a great way to hear improvement over time.

4. Document Success

Recordings document successes and provide learning tools for future performances. They can also extend the memory of the student's musical journey.

With over 25 years of musical experience as a drummer, violinist, and recording engineer, owner Craig Sowby has developed an ear for all styles of music. Because of his extensive knowledge, he possesses an incredible ear for recording, and uses his recording training as a Certified Pro Tools Expert to facilitate his creativity. His recordings have taken 1st place in the Audio Engineering Society international competition in 2006 and 2007.
